For students graduated in 2004 or before, the transformation rules are unchanged.

Dear Miss Kong

ACCA is currently governed by the regulations of the UK Companies Act which state that the final level of the examinations must be at least equivalent to a 3 year UK degree. In 1993, ACCA's recognition as a recognised Qualifying Body under the Companies Act 1989 meant that it had to set examinations which were at least equivalent in standard to those required to obtain a degree from a university in the UK. At that time, the standard of the Foundation Stage was similar to that of the first year examinations of a 3 year degree programme, the Certificate Stage is similar to the second year examinations, and the Professional Stage is similar to the final examinations of a Masters degree.

The 2001 syllabus equivalents are: Part 2 is the same standard as a 3 year UK degree programme, and Part 3 is the same standard as a UK Masters degree.

Completion of the Fundamentals Level of the 2007 syllabus has been equated to the standard of a UK Bachelors degree. ACCA literature states that the Professional Level examinations are set to a standard comparable to that required in the final examination of a UK Masters degree.

Please contact ACCA Connect on +44(0)141 582 2000 should you require any further information or assistance.

Yours sincerely
